"The physical examination which the Manhattan Railway Company proposes that its elevated motormen shall take each year is an outrage," said he to day. Jackson Begins Thorough Investigation of Accident That Killed Ten Men or More and Sets High Bail.

Meports of engineers made months ago show that the section of the tunnel et Fort George that caved in, crushing out the lives of ten and perhaps twelve men, has long been considered dangerris. It is admitted that the men were frightened at the great seams which peared in the rocks and that precontions, which those in charge thought adequate, were taken to prevent a cavein. That they were not is told by the tregedy of Saturday night.

It is thought that two bodies still li buried beneath the mass of rocks and earth in the tunnel. Two men have not been accounted for, the Italian labetters say, and their bodies will likely not be taken out for several days. Am-other cave-in is so imminent that a network of braces must be put up bee it is safe, for men to further re-ve the fallen rock. The revised list lead is as follows: Dead ..
